

Dear IBEC Colleagues:

I write to you as the IBEC chairperson to learn more about your interests and expertise. The Management Committee would like to draw upon the interests and expertise of the general membership in planning and executing the workshops, panels, and papers it produces for ITS World Congresses and other regional and international events. To that end, we have written a short member survey asking you to tell us about your (1) current interests in ITS benefits, evaluation and costs, (2) professional expertise in ITS and (3) interest in helping to produce conference panels and publications and serving on committees. Your responses will help us to better align our efforts with your interests, involve a larger number of IBEC members in IBEC activities, and identify you as a source of information in your areas of expertise.

This survey is short. Your response does not imply a commitment to more active involvement in IBEC. However, if you have a willingness to serve, you can note your interests in your response.

All responses are confidential. Only summary information will be released.

Please respond by COB Friday, September 28, 2007.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Steve Morello, IBEC Chair
